A STAFF E-NEWSLETTER AUGUST 30, 2017

STEWARDSHIP, ABUNDANCE, LEADERSHIP AND GRATITUDE

BY PETER FROELICH

I write today to shine a leadership light on the efforts of our Liza Hagerman and to invite all to keep a lookout for an upcoming brown bag talk, hopefully to be led by Liza — fingers crossed/no pressure — and consider her endorsement of the importance of all in higher education to keep “an abundance mindset.”

Liza and several others from our office attended the Association of American University Presses (AAUP) annual meeting this summer. It was a rich meeting; high-profile speakers; engaging sessions all around. Inspired by a closing plenary talk, Liza invited colleagues to sign up for the speaker’s MOOC on Coursera, and now is meeting with classmates (online around the world and in our office) to leverage the teaching in keeping with our culture of lifelong learning, openness, collaboration and professional development in Purdue University Libraries.

The author/keynote speaker: Dr. Raj Raghunathan (Texas). The MOOC: A Life of Happiness and Fulfillment. Class Central voted it the top MOOC of 2015 and one of the top 50 MOOCs of all time. The focus of Raghunathan’s keynote, with specific value for all of us in higher education: creativity, productivity and happiness are inextricably linked. Happy people are more creative and productive. More importantly, we can choose. We can see a glass not only as half full, but also as a cup overflowing.

Amid discussion of austerity measures, cutbacks and returns on investment (ROIs) in higher education, stewardship can seem like a constraint. We can easily slip into “a scarcity mindset,” where zero-sum-game thinking leads to stress, fear and hyper-competition — building a self-fulfilling and reinforcing negative feedback loop. Raghunathan and his team have clear, proven strategies for us all to keep an abundance mind-set, aspiring to notions of sharing, collaboration and investing in those around you. With less, Raghunathan helps all to do more.

Liza won grants from the AAUP and APSAC to attend the meeting. She engaged richly with the sessions and fellow attendees, and is bringing back what she learned for others’ benefit. Moreover, the particular takeaway that Liza chose to share has value for all of us — to be happier and more productive in our work-life and our life-life. That is quite an eye, and quite an example of personal leadership, in keeping with the finest ideals of Libraries: collaboration, professional development, stewardship and openness.

As Liza found this summer inspiring, I find her inspiring, and I take this chance writing the lead INSIDE article to express gratitude for her mindset. Special thanks to APSAC for their support.

Do reach out to Liza to learn more (lhagerma@purdue.edu); keep an eye out for any brown bag talk she may like to organize; and learn more about Dr. Raj Raghunathan in his recent book, on Coursera, and in his blog on Psychology Today, Sapient Nature.

LIBRARIES PARTICIPATE IN A VARIETY OF CAMPUS ORIENTATIONS

BY TERESA BROWN

It’s been a busy couple of weeks for Purdue Libraries staff preparing and participating in a variety of campus orientations to welcome new students to campus. Teresa Koltzenburg, director of strategic communications, and Ashley Hutchcraft, event planner, organized schedules for coverage at the ISS WOW Resource Fair, BGRI,

STRATEGIC GOAL ICONS

You will notice the use of these icons before the article that are symbolic of our Libraries strategic goals.

SCHOLARLY COMMUNICATION: Libraries facilitate and enhance the continuum of the scholarly communication process.

GLOBAL CHALLENGES: Libraries faculty lead in international initiatives in information literacy, e-science, information access, data management and collaborate on Purdue’s global initiatives.

LEARNING: Libraries faculty lead in information literacy and learning space implementation, research and scholarship.

INFRASTRUCTURE: Libraries staff working together to enhance the users experience, raise awareness of Purdue Libraries and recognize the continued learning and successes of our staff.

OFF THE SHELF

Graduate School Resource Fair, New Faculty Orientation Resource Fair, and BGR Resource Fair. A variety of handouts about Libraries services, a campus map highlighting library locations, copies of JPUR and laptop decals were included in Purdue Libraries book bags available to all participants.

In the BGR sessions, Libraries facilitators conducted a Student Mentor Battle Decks Challenge. A battle deck is an improv game where contestants have to give a presentation on a specific theme and relate it to a set of PowerPoint slides they have never seen before. The main idea is to have student mentors tell new students about the great learning spaces, services and resources provided by Purdue Libraries. The Battle Decks proved to be a very fun and highly engaging activity as part of BGR.

Thank you to all Libraries facilitators and committees who helped highlight the Libraries and its services.

PURDUE LIBRARIES HOST BIG TEN RETIREES

The Purdue University Libraries organized events for the 26th Annual Big Ten Retirees Association Conference: "Together We Soar" Best Practices and Sharing Ideas for Operating a Successful Retiree Association. Conference events highlighted the Barron Hilton Flight and Space Exploration Archives and the Thomas S. and Harvey D. Willmeth Active Learning Center.

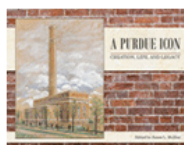

On Friday, August 25, Purdue alumnus, astronaut and author, Jerry Ross provided the keynote address. Attendees visited the Virginia Kelly Karnes Archives and Special Collections Research Center to view the current exhibit, Missing You: Navigating Amelia Earhart's Last Flight and Enduring Legacy, learn about the teaching and learning role of the Archives and Special Collections, and view selected items and papers of engineers, aviation professionals, and astronauts including Purdue distinguished alumni such as Neil A. Armstrong, Eugene Cernan and Jerry Ross.

On Saturday, August 26, Libraries Dean, Jim Mullins, met with attendees and provided a history of the Willmeth Active Learning Center (WALC) building project. Attendees were then given tours of the new building.

PURDUE PRESS RELEASES BOOK ABOUT THE PURDUE NORTH POWER PLANT

A Purdue Icon: Creation, Life, and Legacy is an edited volume that speaks to the history of the Power Plant, from the initial need for increased power and heat to meet a growing campus demand and its Romanesque architecture that allowed it to fit contextually on the campus, to the people who worked to bring heat and power to the campus by keeping the boilers up and the students who experienced the principles and applications of mechanical engineering through active learning. This book tells the story of the transition to alternative power and heat sources at the University, the decommissioning of the Power Plant, the controversy about what was to be done with this important site at the heart of the campus, and the challenges associated with the Power Plant's potential reuse or demolition. The unique problems faced with

About the Editor

James L. Mullins, PhD, is the dean of Libraries and Esther Ellis Norton Professor. In his role as an academic library administrator for over forty years, he has been involved in facility planning and construction at Indiana University South Bend, Villanova University, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Purdue University. Since his arrival at Purdue in 2004, he has championed the construction of a building on the site of the Old Power Plant that would combine the science and engineering libraries and classrooms to address the changing use of libraries by Purdue students in the twenty-first century.

THANK YOU

BY RACHEL MOORE

I want to thank everyone for coming to my retirement party and for all the emails sent to me wishing me the best. Thanks for all the kind words, wonderful hugs and cards. As I said, I have been fortunate to have such kind and sharing people come into my life at Purdue Libraries. The help and support I received made my time working in the Libraries so much better. In the end, what people thought of me is an important treasure to me.

Thank you all!
Rachel
