- author names, institutions, and e-mail addresses*
- title and date of the paper
- abstract (this can usually be cut-and-pasted from the article)
- keywords (either from the author or from the article)
- the document file itself

* The e-mail address is only necessary if the author would like to receive monthly notifications about article download counts

That takes you to the page that shows administrator tools. Under the heading for your community, click the word Upload.
